

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

NIMAA is a non-profit educational institute that trains Medical Assistants to work effectively in today’s high-performing primary care settings. NIMAA was created by community health centers to provide education and employment opportunities in the communities they serve, while addressing a critical workforce shortage.

NIMAA is accredited by the Accrediting Bureau of Health Education Schools and approved and regulated by the Colorado Department of Higher Education, Private Occupational School Board to provide post-secondary vocational education. NIMAA’s innovative training model combines extensive in-clinic experience with concurrent flexible online learning at an affordable cost. NIMAA is an approved partner with the National Healthcareer Association and prepares all students to take the CCMA exam. Students complete the program prepared for meaningful entry-level employment in team-based primary care.

NIMAA: A Workforce Solution For Diverse Communities

NIMAA began in 2016 with one clinical partner in Colorado and one in Connecticut. We are proud to be providing educational opportunities in states from across the U.S. including East Coast, Midwest, Southern, Western, and Pacific regions. We partner with both large and small health centers in rural, metro and inner-city communities.

We partner with team-based primary-care clinics to provide a robust externship experience for NIMAA students; recruited from the communities they serve. Participation in NIMAA helps our partner health centers meet their MA workforce goals.
